

Celebrate America's Most Amazing High School Grads and Successful Students

Communities In Schools

Our 2015 National Yearbook

This graduation season, Communities In Schools will be celebrating high school heroes and successful students from across the country who are changing the picture of education.

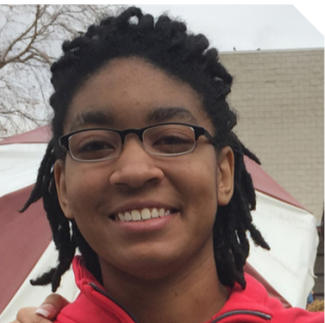

Click the link above to visit our 2015 National Yearbook and click below to meet some of our most outstanding graduates of this year.

Triston Goes from Homeless to Honor Roll

In Georgia, a student with no where to go, found a safe home and the stability he needed to stay in school. Now Triston is graduating and looking forward to college in the Fall.

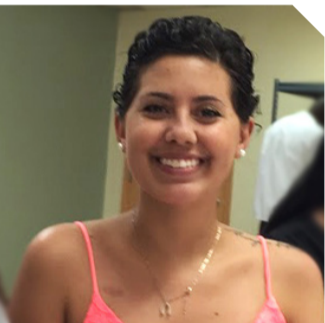

Learn how Triston is working hard to build a better life

Whitney Displays Grit and Grace

With the loss of the grandfather who raised her, Whitney began leaning on drugs and alcohol and was kicked out of school. But Whitney soon learned she could rely on the support of her Communities In Schools site coordinator who helped her get back in class. Now she's set to graduate and is considering law school.

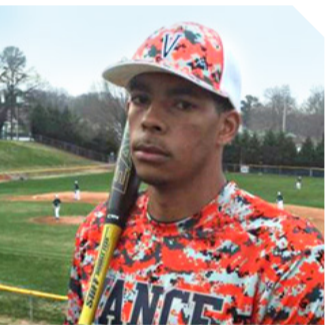

Read about Whitney's journey

Genesis in the Fight of Her Life

Now battling a rare form of cancer for the third time in her young life, Genesis is determined to fulfill her dream of being the first in her family to finish high school and go on to college.

Read her inspiring story

Zack's in A League of His Own

Following the death of his mother, Zack found solace and a surrogate family on the baseball field. His coach on the baseball diamond and in school is helping him pursue his goal of going to college on a baseball scholarship.

Learn about his success on and off the field

Maci Follows Her Dreams

High school student Maci has overcome many obstacles in her personal life thanks to strong support from Communities In Schools. Now she's gained the confidence she needs to compete in the Miss Kansas pageant.

Read how she's taking big strides towards achieving her goals

Paul is Serving with Honor

A mentor stepped into Paul's life more than 9 years ago and put him on a straight and narrow path. Now Paul is following in the footsteps of the retired Marine and is considering a career in the military.

Learn how Paul is on a path to a bright future

Meet More High School Heroes

Moises

Eglaen

Monica

Ale

And Meet Our Amazing Alumni

Jamal

was in jail 3 times by age 16

Ellie

faced an unstable home life

Talitha

lost her home in Katrina

This year, they're graduating college and inspiring students across the country to stay in school and succeed.

Our Outstanding Grads in the News

Washington Post: Talitha Halley

C-Span: Moises Arzu

Ottawa Herald: Ale Gutierrez

Palm Beach Post: Genesis Perozo

MSNBC: Talitha Halley

Charlotte Observer: Zack Morla

